

How to Build Family & Long term Stability in a 3D World

We live in a 3D world... *Deal with it!!!

* In other words THREE points of contact are required for LongTerm Stability!!!

~The following require three dimensions or points for longterm stability~

Problems:

1. A Bicycle - ever tried to sit on a STATIONARY bicycle?
2. A Chair - ever tried to sit on a two legged chair?
3. Family - man & woman only

The Fix:

1. Bicycle - Add a Third wheel making it into a tricycle ☺
*or add a Third dimension called MOTION!!!
2. Chair - Add a third Leg --- you'll be fine.

3. Family - add a MUTUALLY LOVED DEPENDENT who is constantly in need of BOTH of you *usually a child, can be a business or project *preferably a child...

~just to add, in the early stages of family with only man and woman, there is usually a third dimension, as with the bicycle, called MOTION ---you are always busy learning each other's body, doing things with each other, sharing dreams, etc.

But after a while usually 2 ½ - 4years you become STATIONARY!!! --- *hence the topic LONGTERM stability -A stationary Bicycle falls over...

A STATIONARY COUPLE FALLS APART!!!! ----- so add an extra wheel !!!

*meaning, in the case of family, a dependent to whom you are BOTH accountable!!!
